NCFA Partners with Coppin State Club Football to Host Mid-Atlantic Conference Championship

Pittsburgh, PA — The National Club Football Association (NCFA) is proud to announce a partnership with Coppin State Club Football to host the 2025 Mid-Atlantic Conference (MAC) Championship Game. The highly anticipated matchup will take place on Sunday, November 23rd at 1:00 PM ET at the Coppin State Physical Education Complex in Baltimore, Maryland.

This year's MAC Championship will feature the top team from the MAC North and MAC South divisions, battling for supremacy and a coveted spot in the NCFA National Championship Bowl Game.

“We’re thrilled to bring the MAC Championship to Coppin State,” said NCFA President [Sandy Sanderson]. “Their commitment to club football and the energy of their program make this the perfect venue for one of the most important games of our season.”

“The Department of Campus Recreation and Wellness and Coppin State Club Football are excited to host such a high-stakes game on our gem of a field, which is sure to attract many eyes. Club Football was one of the first programs we revitalized after returning to campus from COVID in 2021, and it has been incredible to witness its growth. The team is proudly continuing its legacy as a championship contender after a hiatus, and we couldn’t be prouder. Of course, we hope to be competing in the championship game on November 23 and are working hard toward that goal, but regardless, it is a tremendous honor to host this event for the student-athletes who dedicate themselves to these opportunities.” [Morgan Newton, CSU Director of Campus Recreation & Wellness]

The winner of the MAC Championship will advance to the NCFA National Championship Bowl, where they will compete for the ultimate title in collegiate club football.

Fans, students, and alumni are encouraged to attend and support their teams in what promises to be an exciting and competitive showdown. Admission details and streaming options will be announced in the coming weeks.
